

YOUNGSTERS HAVE CLASS IN 'GOLDFISH BOWL'

Studying in public for a day are these West Miami Junior High youngsters, who met class in an empty showroom for a day so the public could watch through the big windows and hear, over a special loudspeaker, what went on. Mrs. Harriet Mertz teaches music while, from left, Sam Schnaiter, Connie Saunders, Sheila Skrimshire and Ronnie Sconyers listen. Parents and other students watch through window. The "goldfish bowl" classes were part of the school's observance of American Education Week. —Miami Daily News Photo by Spencer.
